“ WE HAVE HAD MANY BATTLES AGAINST THEM OVER THE YEARS AND HAVE ALWAYS FOUND THEM TO BE ORGANISED, PHYSICAL AND HARD TO BEAT, SO WE ARE FULLY AWARE WE NEED TO BE RIGHT AT IT FROM THE FIRST WHISTLE THIS EVENING...”

On behalf of everyone at Harrogate Town AFC we would like to send our deepest condolences to the Royal Family following the passing of Her Majesty, The Queen. We were all saddened to hear the news last Thursday afternoon and felt it right for the weekend's fixtures to be postponed as a mark of respect.

Our last home game was a horrible experience for everyone and we are desperate to make amends. We were dealt a harsh blow by a powerful outfit in Newport who took full advantage of our performance on the day.

The fans remained patient with us, but we deserved the reception we got and were in full agreement with that, we deservedly came away with nothing.

We then had a bit of a hangover affect in the first half of our trip to Hartlepool, we were a bit soft and gifted them goals which gave them too much of a foothold in the game. We played a lot better in the second half, had more intensity and if not for some great saves would have been right back in the game.

The lads carried that second half performance into Sutton where I felt we deserved to come away with something. It's always a hard place to go, but for a relatively new team we looked organised throughout and worked hard, while handling a lot of what Sutton threw at us.

We came away feeling positive about the performance and we will be stronger for it, with a bit more composure In the final third we could have come away with at least a point.

All four of the lads we were able to bring in on deadline day are chomping at the bit to be in the side play in front of our home fans for the first time. Each individual is capable of exciting the crowd and give us a new dimension in attack.

We know from previous experience Salford are a tough opposition with quality right through the side, they have made a really strong start under their new Manager Neil Wood.

We have had many battles against them over the years and have always found them to be organised, physical and hard to beat, so we are fully aware we need to be right at it from the first whistle this evening.

We'll be doing everything we can tonight to put our last few results behind us and send you all home happy with three points.

Thank you for your support,

Simon

JOSH FALKINGHAM

“ WE HAVE WATCHED SALFORD AND KNOW WHAT TO EXPECT. THEY ARE A GOOD SIDE WHO ALWAYS PROVIDE A TOUGH TEST AND THEY HAVE STARTED THE SEASON IN GREAT FORM. ”

Welcome back to The EnviroVent Stadium.

Before we get started, I would like to echo the sentiments of the Gaffer and the thoughts of myself and the lads are with the Royal Family at this time. The news came as quite the shock and at times like this football, of course, takes a back seat.

Our last home fixture against Newport was not the result or the performance we were looking for, especially at home where we want to make it as tough as we can for the opposition.

With the postponement of Saturday's match, we are all itching to get back out there and set that performance right in tonight's match.

It has been a tough five months for me, especially as someone who hasn't been used to injuries of that length of time, so on a personal note it was really pleasing to be back out there.

However, I suffered a minor setback in our match against Hartlepool and having spent so long out through injury we decided to be safe rather than sorry. The time between matches has given me an opportunity to continue working hard to get fit and available for selection once again.

When you're on a run of defeats like we are the biggest thing is hard work and togetherness.

When everyone is pulling in the same direction then the results will start turning, the aim is to try and get on a run that then brings back the confidence and momentum to the squad.

We have watched Salford and know what to expect. They are a good side who always provide a tough test and they have started the season in great form. However, we want to make home advantage count and get a positive result which we can build on in the matches ahead. To do that, we need the backing of you our supporters.

It gives players a huge boost when you have that backing from the fans that pay to come and watch week in week out, creating an atmosphere for the lads to go out there and express themselves the way we know we can.

It's going to be a really tough challenge ahead and for us to get the result and points we are desperately wanting we are going to have to really work hard, with you backing us from the first minute.

The Ferguson family is one which is well respected across Scottish football. Brothers Derek and more notably Barry took to the field for Rangers, the latter captaining the side to the brink of European success in 2008. However, the next generation of the Ferguson family have now set out to make their mark in football, only this time further afield.

The summer transfer window saw Kyle Ferguson join Town after an impressive second half of last season with Altrincham Town. After attracting high levels of interest, the defender revealed it was one conversation with Manager Simon Weaver which was enough to convince him that this was the right move for him.

INTERVIEW: Nickolas McNally

FERGUSON

Speaking exclusively to the club's programme he said: "The gaffer was brilliant with me, he had been to watch a couple of my games last season and knew a lot about me. I spoke to him on the phone and he explained how he wanted to play and I really liked that. We also spoke about how he wanted me to play and I liked everything he said.

"When I was making my decision, coming here just felt right, I heard nothing but good things about the club and they are ambitious. No one here wants to be known as 'just a league two club' everyone is pulling in the one direction to continue improving together. As players, we are really well looked after and since I joined everyone has been really welcoming. There are no big egos and everyone gets on with each other. From the minute I came in, the guys who have been here for years were really welcoming. The club helped me find an apartment and gestures like that really help you settle in."

USON

As a 22-year-old, Kyle has arrived in Yorkshire having experienced several different cultures across the globe. However, the well-travelled defender highlighted his early experiences in the game as vital in moulding him as a player and as a person.

He said: "I grew up watching my dad playing at the top level. Whether that be Champions League with Rangers or in the English Premier League, my uncle played for Rangers as well. My cousin Lewis and I are of similar ages and we were always playing football when we were young.

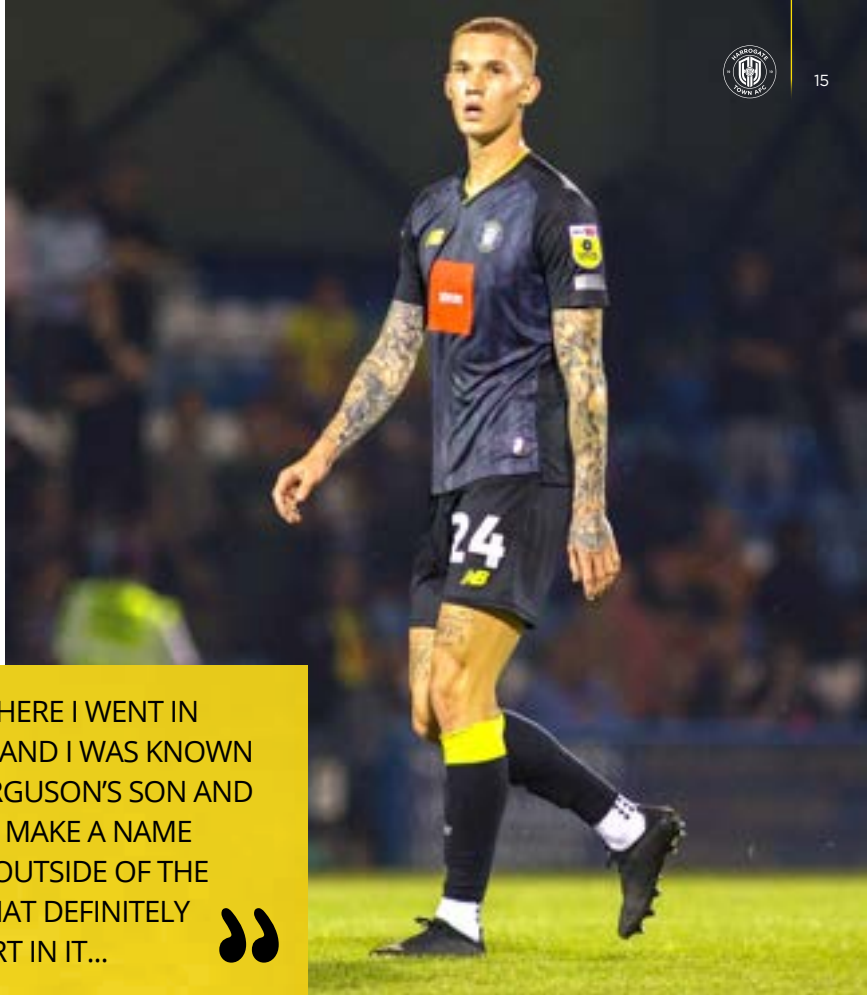

"I joined Rangers when I was about seven and I was there until I was about 14. The pressure which came with that was heightened because I was Barry Ferguson's son, he had achieved so much at the club and everyone knew who he was. I used to play in midfield as well, so obviously, the comparisons were made but I was only a kid.

Thinking back it was quite daunting.

"When you play for Celtic or Rangers you are expected to win every week so you have to have a really strong mentality and my dad is always on me, pushing me to improve. That has definitely been something that has helped me, that culture in my family and in my house."

In the aftermath of his release from his boyhood heroes at the age of 13, Ferguson had spells with Kilmarnock and Airdrie. However, it was Glasgow-based side Clyde where he would make his professional debut.

Speaking on the occasion, Ferguson revealed: "I think you always know when you're at bigger clubs your chances at that age are going to be limited. When I was 16 I made three or four appearances in the first team for Clyde and that was a massive learning experience.

“ ANYWHERE I WENT IN SCOTLAND I WAS KNOWN AS BARRY FERGUSON'S SON AND I WANTED TO MAKE A NAME FOR MYSELF OUTSIDE OF THE COUNTRY. THAT DEFINITELY PLAYED A PART IN IT... ”

“When you go into men's football everything changes. I was used to youth football and stepping up the physicality and pace of the game changes. I think being exposed to the first-team at that age opened my eyes to what was expected of me. At that point I hadn't really grown into my body, I was 16, tall but skinny and I needed to bulk up to hold my own at that level and I think that experience has helped me to get to where I am today.”

After departing The Bully Wee, Ferguson headed to the states as he undertook in a football scholarship where he would continue to balance his studies and football. The decision is one which Ferguson believed gave him the best opportunity to continue in full-time football.

The Scotsman revealed: “I wanted to be in a full-time environment where football played high importance. The education was crucial but the opportunity to experience a different culture and keep playing football was my focus.

“Anywhere I went in Scotland I was known as Barry Ferguson's son and I wanted to make a name for myself outside of the country. That definitely played a part in it but I knew that it also gave me an opportunity to bulk up and become stronger. Going over there I thought the facilities could help me do that.”

Reflecting on the experience, Ferguson believes the spell in the states helped him to mature both on and off the pitch.

He added: “America was more intense, training was every day and that was after a day in the classroom so it was demanding but I loved it. I think that was the making of me in terms of playing football because it gave me the tools to carry on in my development.”

A spell in Sweden was to follow as covid-19 impacted the footballing world. The Bellshill-born defender revealed the importance of regular football was a motivating factor in his decision to make the move.

He said: "My time in Sweden began as the pandemic began to take effect. However, Sweden stayed open and kept playing football and I spent six months there. That was a huge difference from anything I had experienced before. The town where I lived was around two hours from any big city and it allowed me to focus on my football.

"My mum and dad managed to get over when I was there which helped a lot but I was left to my own devices. I think that was what I needed to keep developing."

Despite his vast array of experience, it was Irish side Waterford where the defensive powerhouse saw regular first-team football for the first time. In his time with the club, he registered over 20 appearances in Ireland's top flight. Ferguson believes the demands of regular first-team football were the ideal learning curve for that period of his career.

He stated: "My dad and I would set targets every year or so and the next one was to play in a top-flight division in Europe. Waterford allowed me to experience that, as a defender you're going up against some of the best players in that country.

"That was my first full season in men's football playing first-team football and I started to learn more and more every week and I felt myself improving and I felt after my time there I was ready to test myself in England."

With a full season experience under his belt, the well-travelled Scotsman hit the road once again. However, despite interest from both sides of the border Altrincham was where he would then ply his trade. However, Ferguson was required to be patient as his opportunity was destined to come.

Speaking on his time with the side, he said: "I had already decided that I wanted to go to England when I heard about the interest back home. I joined and I didn't play the first five games and that was hard but I had to keep working hard because I knew my opportunity would come up soon enough.

"In my first game we won and kept a clean sheet so that was a massive confidence boost and from there I managed to keep my place in the team. My name probably wasn't very well known so that was good because I wanted to turn heads for the right reason and make my mark as the player I am."

Kyle is not the only member of the Ferguson family to switch clubs during the summer transfer window. His cousin Lewis moved from Aberdeen to Italian giants Bologna. The Scotland-capped midfielder and his cousin remain close having played together in the Rangers youth academy.

Ferguson believes he can take inspiration from his cousins' achievements in recent weeks.

He revealed: "He is one of my best mates, we were born exactly one month apart and we have always been really close growing up. You could always see he was really good and had all the attributes to go to the top.

"I think he always wanted to go abroad to experience a different culture and I am buzzing for him because I know how much he has been through to get this move. Playing together for Scotland? That would be a dream to represent our country together but it's important that we keep moving forward one step at a time."

As Ferguson and his Town team mates prepare for their eighth league match of the season. The number 24 believes the side has what it takes to make this season one to remember for the supporters.

He said: "We have a great group of boys here and we are all really close. There are a lot of new faces so we are getting stronger and stronger every week we have together. The results will come if we keep working hard and working together.

THE MEN IN CHARGE

Town Historian Phil Harrison reviews the successes and failures of the Club's managers over the years...

JACK "BOSS" TOWNROW 1955-69

MANAGERIAL RECORD
GAMES 491 / WON 182 / DREW 79 / LOST 230

'Boss' Townrow as he was commonly known joined Town for the 1955/56 season as the new coach/trainer-manager/physio from Railway Athletic.

He was born in West Ham, London at the turn of the last century and played for West Ham and London boys before becoming captain of England schoolboys. At 17, centre-half John joined Clapton Orient (Leyton Orient) and at 19 turned professional. In 1925 he made his debut for England against Scotland at Hampden Park, marking Hughie Gallagher and was one of the first players from the second division ever to play for England. Later transferred to Chelsea where he played six seasons in the 'old first division', coming up against the likes of 'Dixie' Dean, Jimmy Dunn and Charlie Buchan.

In 1941 he moved to Knaresborough for the parachute making firm Spencer Brothers. During the war he organised matches between factory and service teams which included Sam Bartram and Leslie Compton and refereed a few. From 1947 to 1955 he helped Railway Athletic rise from the Harrogate League to Yorkshire League including their famous Amateur Cup run of 1952/53. In his time as manager of Town he guided them to promotion to Yorkshire League Division One in 1960/61 and then to a runners-up finish in the league and a West Riding County Cup success in 1962/63. I'm proud to say he also signed me at Harrogate Town for 1966/67 aged 17 after trials with the club.

A week after Town's record 13-0 victory, Jack sadly died on Friday 11 April 1969 at Scotton Banks Hospital Knaresborough aged 68, after a long illness. His cortege passed both Town and Railway's grounds. Our President George Dunnington still possesses one of his England caps and there was a framed picture with Townrow and his cap in the Clubhouse at one time, now at George's house.

GAM STOP

#TakeBackControl2022

Harrogate Town AFC are proud to be working in partnership with GAMSTOP (The National Online Self-Exclusion Scheme).

Anyone worried about their gambling can visit the GAMSTOP website to exclude themselves for free from all gambling websites and apps run by companies licensed in Great Britain.

The GAMSTOP service offers minimum exclusion lengths of 6 months, 1 year or 5 years. At present, over 300,000 people have used GAMSTOP to take back control of their online gambling, and our partnership underlines our commitment as a club towards safer gambling messaging.

Alongside GAMSTOP, we would encourage anyone who is struggling with gambling to reach out for support and to also use other tools such as bank blocks and device blocking software. The National Gambling Helpline can be contacted on 0808 8020 133 and offers free, confidential advice and support for anyone worried about their own, or someone else's gambling.

We are delighted to be participating in this month's GAMSTOP campaign '#TakeBackControl2022', a time that encourages sports clubs to raise awareness amongst those at risk of gambling related harm and highlights the benefits of self-exclusion. We will be sharing information across our club socials this week about this important campaign.

NEIL WOOD

Age: 39 Appointed: May 2022

Neil was appointed as Head Coach in May 2022, his first senior appointment in the EFL after eight years at Manchester United.

During the last three of those Neil was Head Coach of the Under-23s, winning promotion from PL2 Division 2, reaching the UEFA Youth League Quarter-Finals and pushing on 17 players to make their first team debut for the Old Trafford club.

As a player, the Stretford born midfielder came through the United academy and had loans at Burnley and Coventry City before moves to Blackpool and Oldham Athletic where a serious injury curtailed his spell. After overcoming injury, Neil played over in the Bosnian league before returning to the UK and moving into coaching with Aston Villa, eventually returning to United.

Joining the Ammies from Nantwich Town ahead of the 2017-18 season, the 27-year-old started his career in Everton's academy and made it to the U21s before being released in 2014. Spells at Chester, Rhyl and Nantwich Town followed before his move to the Peninsula Stadium. In his first season, Touray cemented his place as first choice left-back and recorded nine assists, as Salford won the National League North before making it back-to-back promotions in 2018-19 as the Ammies reached the Football League. With over 220 appearances, Ibou is Salford's longest-serving player ever.

A Gambian international, Ibou starred in The Scorpions' history-making run to the Quarter-Finals of the Africa Cup of Nations in January.

PHIL OLDHAM/SHUTTERSTOCK

RYAN WATSON

Age: 29 Signed: Jan 2021

Signing from Tranmere Rovers in January 2021, the 29-year-old midfielder is a three-time promotion winner from League Two with Northampton Town (x2) and MK Dons. The former Leicester City trainee was blooded into the EFL in loan spells at Northampton. After leaving The Foxes he signed for Barnet, and spent two years in North London followed by a season at MK Dons before returning for a third spell at Northampton and was The Cobblers' top scorer and Player of the Year in 2020-21. In the summer of 2021 he signed for Tranmere Rovers, but with playing time limited switched to The Peninsula Stadium in January 2022 making an immediate impact in the second half of the season, scoring four goals and providing three assists.

PAUL GREENWOOD/SHUTTERSTOCK

CALLUM HENDRY

Age: 24 Signed: Jul 2022

Striker Callum Hendry arrived at Salford on a two-year deal in the summer of 2022. His career started in the Blackburn Rovers academy, from where he had a loan spell at Clitheroe in 2015 that was ended due to injury. After his release from Ewood Park in 2017, the 24-year-old moved up to Scotland and signed for St. Johnstone where he spent five years and had loan spells at Brechin City, Aberdeen and Kilmarnock. He will be most fondly remembered by Saints fans for his form at the end of 2021-22 when he scored 9 goals in 18 games to keep them in the SPL. The son of former Scotland defender Colin Hendry, Hendry has been ever-present up front for the Ammies this season and marked his EFL debut with a goal after just five minutes against Mansfield Town at The Peninsula Stadium.

DOMINANT PERFORMANCE IN SEASON OPENER ENDS IN STALEMATE

EFL YOUTH ALLIANCE
NORTH EAST

HARROGATE TOWN 0
HARTLEPOOL UNITED 0

Town U18's Academy kicked off their league campaign with a frustrating 0-0 draw against Hartlepool United at York St. John University.

The boys put in a very good performance and deserved to come away with the three points having dominated both halves, but unfortunately could not convert their superior possession and chances created into goals.

That being said, the lads can take many positives from the game both individually and collectively, but must now be more clinical in front of goal. Town defended from the front, demonstrating excellent pressing and cover from our defensive line as well as dominating possession and playing some of the best football since the formation of the academy.

The closest Town came to scoring was when Finn O'Boyle hit the post in the first half whilst the Pools' goalkeeper made a number of good saves to keep the scoreline goalless.

Despite the frustration of not taking all three points, the lads can take plenty of positives into the fixture on Saturday when we take on Grimsby Town.

HARROGATE TOWN 0 SOUTH SHIELDS 1

In the week leading up to Sunday's match, the squad worked on how to respond in key moments and how to achieve success in each instance and took this mentality into the game.

Against a physical South Shields team, the girls achieved success in their individual and collective duels and can be incredibly proud of their performances despite the defeat.

During the game Town created half a dozen really good moments. The first being a goal scored by Charlotte Broad that was ruled out as marginal offside, following a great pass from midfield by Jasmine Blunt to Olivia

Johnson, who was a constant thorn in the South Shields side. Kate Donnan had a fantastic strike bounce off the crossbar and following a fantastic bit of build up play, Bella Devereux was denied by a great save from the visiting keeper. Alex Macdonald deputised in goal today and had a faultless performance, receiving the player of the match.

Although not the result the performance merited, the girls can be very proud of their performance and take the positive moments from the game as a catalyst and maximise each one within training and the remainder of the season.

‘LOVE FOOTBALL. PROTECT THE GAME’

A message about anti-social and criminal behaviour

To mark the new season, we want to make you aware of new measures being taken across all of football to ensure everyone can have a safe and enjoyable experience. We are supporting strong action from the FA, Premier League and EFL to tackle anti-social and criminal behaviours that put all of us at risk.

This reflects the seriousness of the risks to fans and staff – pyros can burn at 2000 degrees Celsius and cause lifechanging injuries, while entering the pitch endangers players, managers and match officials.

We know those who commit these illegal acts do not represent the majority of supporters.
